Music and worship: Insider's cut

feat. Rheanne Mole

I have headed up the musical worship team at QEPBC for many years. In my early days of leading worship, a speaker at a conference said that a worship leader shouldn't just lead their congregation in worship but should be the 'lead worshipper'. It is a subtle but important difference in emphasis which struck a chord with me (no pun intended!) and so I always attempt to approach my preparation and leading with a prayerful and worshipful heart. I aim to create a flow to worship and to lead us into greater awe and thankfulness and deeper intimacy with God.

We are very blessed at QEPBC to have a small but committed worship team and to currently have three worship leaders! - Ken, Rachel and myself. We'd love to welcome others into the group, particularly if you play an instrument. As well as running through the songs for the week on a Sunday morning before the service, we meet monthly on a Monday evening to worship together, learn new songs and try to develop as a group. If you have musical ability and a passion for worship do come along to our next rehearsal on Monday 21st September, 7.30-9.15pm, to see if you'd like to join the team.

Catch me on a Sunday or drop me a line if you have any questions.

Beyond the Face: Seeing and Being Seen in Portraits

Tuesday 29th September, 10 AM - 3:30 PM

£35 - Lunch Included

"Beyond the Face" explores how, with the right intent, portraits can become a window into the subject's soul.

Stephen shares a simple approach to help us connect with others and see ourselves more clearly. Building on this, he reflects on what it means to be seen by the face of God in Christ. The day includes practical examples, opportunities to try portrait work and space for quiet reflection. Lunch Included.
