Highlight of church life

Our Young Adults:
Daniel at Street Angels

Street angels is a Christian organisation that goes out on to the street Friday and Saturday nights and helps people involved in a diverse set of difficult situations at night; from drunkenness to protecting and caring for vulnerable women. They prayerfully help those who find themselves in bad situations such as incapacitation or overdosing. They always have a handful of lollipops to hand and provide water for those they seek to help and comfort. They do approach this in faith as they cover their sessions with prayer before they go out.

Daniel had his first outing: "I got the opportunity to go on a trial run with the street angels last Friday on the 16th. Lucky for me this was a quiet night for them, so it was great to ease me into it and only saw one guy vomit, which is probably a common occurrence at that time of night, we also had quite a good chat with all of the bouncers of the different bars and clubs. And overall most of the night goers were very fond of us. So I will be continuing with these sessions and when I become a proper street angel I am sure I would have lots of tales to tell."

Please pray for Daniel as he continues to help those on the streets - for God's peace, protection and wisdom. That Daniel will be a light in the darkness to those in lost and struggling.
